

Montessori Guide Role

March 2022

About us

Playhood is an award winning London Montessori nursery school, workspace and community. United in one place. Opened in 2020 we've made waves in the EY sector and have been featured across the press.

Playhood offers families a garden studio nursery for their youngest members with a comfortable professional workspace for parents on the same site. Based in a uniquely renovated Victorian house in leafy Crouch End, Playhood is designed to meet the needs of families today seeking more sustainable and connected living, and ambitious Educators seeking more progressive and collaborative practice. It's a concept that we're shaping together, as we go.

In private nurseries parents can feel more like adversaries than allies. A transactional, service-provider relationship creates at best customers, and at worst, critics. And yet we know urban families with young children need a village and Educators need partners and champions. It's why we're doing what so many others are thinking and having so much fun in the process.

We are an authentic Montessori school, inspired by Reggio Emilia, Forest Schools and with an open, learning approach to new research and methods. We're based in North London, N8 (2 mins from the buzzing Broadway) and open from 9am-5pm, Monday - Thursday, 47 weeks of the year. We close for 6 staff-led training days per year.

Crucially, we work with just 6 brilliant children a day.

Playhood is co-led by Karen Partridge (business & community) and Laura Perfetti (education) with support from our skillful team. There is little hierarchy here. Laura (Montessori Level 6, Mentor & Teacher Trainer) brings 10 years Montessori experience from London and Africa. She absolutely embodies the philosophy and is a highly regarded member of the Montessori community. Uniquely, Laura is as skilled in teaching adults as she is children and relishes the chance to support our parent members, as well as Montessorians in their careers. More widely, we tap into the knowledge base of the global Montessori community through our network and friends.

The role and you

Job openings at Playhood are rare so this is an exciting opportunity for the right Educator to flourish in a joyful outdoor environment with total freedom (within limits!). We welcome applications from English speaking Educators at different points in their career, from recently qualified to more experienced, and those seeking flexible hours or with a particular burning passion.

Working shoulder-to-shoulder with Laura you'll ideate, design, implement and lead across all aspects of school life. Much of the activity will be familiar to you, it might be creating a new AEL activity, deputising for Laura, leading a forest school session in the local woods, writing a 2 Year Review and weekly observations, or meeting with parents. But you'll also be given the freedom (and support) to develop areas of the curriculum, elements of the business of interest to you and our work in the wider sector.

With only 6 children you can provide a highly responsive approach and will build strong relationships with their lovely parents, all of whom are on-tap and keen to support you wherever possible.

We are more interested in your approach than your background and can offer any level of support needed. You'll be known for your passion, energy, creativity, empathy, patience and initiative. Your zeal for Montessori will be infectious. You'll love Playhood's uniqueness and wonder why all settings aren't like ours.

You'll be a natural at spotting opportunities - whether it's how to extend learning in the moment, build on our passion for sustainability or write an article for our newsletter. Essentially, you'll be brimming with ideas from the get-go.
